

the Army during World War II and saw combat in the European Theater, earning the combat infantrymen badge and the Bronze Star for valor. He immediately returned to the plant at the end of the war and dedicated himself to government service for the next five decades. Mr. Pollard served in many capacities at the plant, always determined to ensure that Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen and Marines were supplied with the highest quality ammunition and that Americans were receiving every penny's worth of their defense dollar.

At 81 years old, Mr. Pollard could have retired many years ago. Instead, he remained in federal service because he loved his work and was committed to Lake City, the Ordnance Corps, and the U.S. Army.

Mr. Speaker, Dale Pollard has been an inspiration to all who had the pleasure of working with him at Lake City. I know all Members of Congress will join me in paying tribute to the outstanding public service of my good friend.

HONORING ETHEL McALPINE JAMESON

HON. SCOTT McINNIS

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, January 31, 2000

Mr. McINNIS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to take a moment to pause and remember a woman that many knew and loved, Mrs. Ethel McAlpine Jameson.

Mrs. Jameson was a long-time Republican Party activist and a very politically involved person. Mrs. Jameson was co-chair of the election campaigns for a former United States Representative and Senator. She served on the board of the Tri-County Mental Health Association in the Denver area and was also active in musical circles and the Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Jameson is survived by her son, seven grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

It is with this, Mr. Speaker, that I wish to remember Mrs. Jameson for being a great activist and caring wife, mother and grandmother. She was a great American whose service and friendship will be greatly missed.

HONORING CHAIRMAN TOM BLILEY

HON. HOWARD COBLE

OF NORTH CAROLINA

Mr. COBLE. Mr. Speaker, in just a few days—February 8, to be exact—we will acknowledge the fourth anniversary of the signing of the historic Telecommunications Act of 1996. And so, it is fitting that we acknowledge one of the act's key sponsors, my good friend, the gentleman from Richmond, Chairman TOM BLILEY.

As part of the act's anniversary activities, the Competitive Telecommunications Association, more easily referred to as CompTel, is honoring Chairman BLILEY as one of the two "Champions of Competition," the other being Senator FRITZ HOLLINGS from the State of North Carolina. Both will be duly recognized, and rightly so, for their outstanding leadership and bipartisan spirit throughout the nearly decade-long debate in the Congress to update the 1934 act.

Mr. Speaker, the Telecom Act provides for a procompetitive, deregulatory national policy framework designed to accelerate rapid private sector deployment of advanced telecommunications and information technologies and services to all Americans by opening all telecommunications markets to competition.

Well, Mr. Speaker, I can assure you that the results are in following 4 years after enactment of this historic piece of legislation. Thanks to Chairman BLILEY's persistence in crafting proper safeguards to ensure open competition to all players, we see today the fruits of his labor.

Finally, Mr. Speaker, in addition to commending Mr. BLILEY for his role in bringing competition to the local market, I would note that his good work on this historic bill has brought hundreds of new companies competing in today's marketplace offering better products and services than have ever been developed and deployed in our lifetime. With that said, it's important to note that not only are consumers better served with many choices, but served at lower prices. Mr. BLILEY and the act intended this to happen. Mr. Speaker, I raise my hat to Chairman TOM BLILEY and congratulate him on being named the Champion of Competition.

IN HONOR OF HAZEL WOLF

HON. JAY INSLEE

OF WASHINGTON

Mr. INSLEE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the life of an exceptional environmental and social activist who recently passed, Ms. Hazel Wolf. Ms. Wolf, originally from Victoria, British Columbia, spent most of her life in Seattle, and her final years in Port Angeles. One daughter, five grandchildren, five great-grandchildren, and four great-great grandchildren survive her.

Ms. Wolf's commitment to the environment was strong throughout her 101 years. As an active member of the Audubon Society for 38 years, she helped to establish Audubon chapters within Washington State, recruit new members, and fought tirelessly to protect our natural resources. The Hazel Wolf Wetlands on Sammamish Plateau was named in her behalf. She was also the recipient of a number of other conservation awards, including the Audubon Medal for Excellence in Environmental Achievement in 1977, the Washington State Department of Game's Award for services in protection of wildlife in 1978, and the State of Washington Environmental Excellence Award in 1978, and the Seattle's Spirit of America Award in 1999. Many in my community cheered heartily when, on her 98th birthday, Washington State Governor Mike Lowry declared March 10th as "Hazel Wolf Day." She understood clearly that if we do not act now to safeguard our precious resources, we will be responsible for the destruction of irreplaceable wilderness areas and wildlife communities.

She was also committed to the idea of women's suffrage, social justice, and civil rights, and never hesitated to practice what she preached. Many years ago, during the era in which many public places were segregated, Ms. Wolf asked to swim specifically when the YWCA pool was set aside for African-American women. Her swim spoke volumes about her beliefs.

Mr. Speaker, the recent death of Hazel Wolf has made me realize, once again, what an awesome responsibility we have as Members of Congress. Ms. Wolf's fight to protect the rights of the working poor, religious and ethnic minorities, and our natural resources is a fight that I am proud to carry forth as a United States Congressman. I know the thoughts and prayers of many of us in the Seattle area go out to Ms. Wolf's entire family. Her life was a shining example of devotion, in so many ways, to a better world for all of us.

SOUTH FLORIDA FOOD RECOVERY; FEEDING THE POOR, NEEDY AND HOMELESS

HON. CARRIE P. MEEK

OF FLORIDA

Mrs. MEEK of Florida. Mr. Speaker, South Florida Food Recovery recently completed its eighth "Toys for Tots" program, in cooperation with the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve and sponsored by the city of North Miami Beach. This effort was an enormous success, helping make the holidays brighter for more than 5,000 children.

Our entire community appreciates the efforts of the hundreds of contributors, sponsors, and volunteers. I want to particularly recognize the efforts of South Florida Food Recovery's founder, the Honorable Jule Littman, who has served the city of North Miami Beach with distinction in many official capacities and who continues to dedicate his efforts to helping the neediest people in our community. Congratulations to him and to his entire staff for another job well done.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to share with my colleagues an article on this matter that appeared in the Community Newspapers of Miami. I hope it will inspire more communities to follow the example set by South Florida Food Recover.

[From the Community Newspaper, Dec. 27, 1999]

SFFR JOINS MARINES TO BRING HOLIDAY CHEER TO NEEDY KIDS

(By Bari Auerbach)

More than 20,000 toys and 7,000 leather sneakers were distributed recently to needy children during the eighth annual "Toys for Tots" giveaway hosted by South Florida Food Recovery (SFFR) and the U.S. Marine Corps at Patricia A. Mishcon Park in North Miami Beach.

Santa Claus (alias Bill Lindsay, a SFFR volunteer) helped distribute toys to at least 5,000 children from all over Miami-Dade County. The toys were donated by many corporations and members of the community.

In addition to pony and railroad car rides, there were special treats for hungry appetites including 10,000 slices of pizza donated by Papa John's, 5,000 hot dogs served by such civic organizations as the North Miami Beach Kiwanis Club and the North Bay Village Optimist Club, plus cake, ice cream, cookies, milk in mugs, soda, candy and more.

The North Miami Pops Orchestra played holiday classics, plus favorite characters like Burnie, the Miami Heat mascot, and a purple dinosaur mingled with the children while BellSouth Mobility offered free calls to send holiday greetings anywhere in the U.S.

"This year's Toys for Tots event was bigger and better than ever, thanks to the generous support of many sponsors," said Jule Littman, executive director of South Florida Food Recovery.

"Special thanks goes out to the City of North Miami Beach, City of North Miami, City of Miami, United Way of Miami-Dade, McArthur Dairy, Publix: Costco, 7-11, Papa John's, Flemings, Mahi Shrine Clowns, Bill Seidel Motors, BellSouth, Americare, North Miami Beach Pops Orchestra, North Miami Beach Kiwanis and Feed the Children."

The concept for South Florida Food Recovery originated about 20 years ago when a truckload of cheese was inherited by the City of North Miami Beach and Littman arranged to have the cheese distributed to the needy.

"Much to everyone's surprise, there were many men, women and families with small children who lined the street for the free cheese giveaway," Littman said.

Once the need was recognized, Littman, along with civic minded volunteers and food administering agencies, started their mission to feed the poor, needy and homeless by bringing together food items and supplies from a variety of industries.

Today, South Florida Food Recovery, a non-profit organization, recovers and distributes food, free of charge, without discrimination to needy people in Florida on a regular basis and to disaster zones in times of emergency.

To inquire about volunteering for future SFFR events or to donate items, phone 305-891-8811.

REMEMBERING A LIBRARY
VISIONARY, FRANK BARKMAN

HON. SCOTT McINNIS

OF COLORADO

Monday, January 31, 2000

Mr. McINNIS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask that we pause for a moment to remember the life of a great advocate for the City of Pueblo, Mr. Frank Barkman.

Mr. Barkman and his wife, Marie Lamb Barkman, have been financial and personal pillars of the Pueblo Library District. They donated funds to construct several libraries, including the Frank I. Lamb Branch and the Frank and Marie Barkman Branch.

Frank and Marie were the leading advocates for Pueblo's library system over the years and were active in the community in many other ways. Mr. Barkman served as the President of the Library Board for more than twelve years. He was also active in Rotary and was a supporter of the YMCA and the El Pueblo Boys Ranch.

It is with this, Mr. Speaker, that I would like to pay tribute to a man that has given so much to his community. The City of Pueblo will miss his friendship, leadership and service.

THE EVIL PEN

HON. JACK METCALF

OF WASHINGTON

Monday, January 31, 2000

Mr. METCALF. Mr. Speaker, I submit for the RECORD the following article:

THE EVIL PEN

(By Balint Vazsonyi)

[First published August 31, 1999, in The Washington Times, under the title "Guiding the pen."]

On August 23, Frank J. Murray presented an exhaustive special report in the Washington Times on the subject of executive orders. Early on, he quotes Paul Begala, 5-star general in President Clinton's personal army. "Stroke of the pen, law of the land. Kind of cool," says Mr. Begala.

Indeed.

During the early 1980's, on a concert tour of Hungary, I found myself commenting to a friend about the general easing of the political atmosphere, plenty of food, people saying more frequently what they really thought—all in stark contrast to other colonies of the Soviet Socialist Russian Empire, such as East Germany or Czechoslovakia.

"Don't be fooled," my friend retorted, "the pen that can wipe out a man's very existence is still there. Right now, the pen is held by a more decent hand, that's all."

One of the many ways of defining fundamental differences between socialism and America is to point out that the U.S. Constitution does not provide such a pen to any individual.

Nevertheless, Mr. Murray's research shows generous use of just such a pen by all recent presidents. While Presidents Kennedy and Carter hold a comfortable lead, President Ford is not far behind, and Bill Clinton's average falls between those of Presidents Reagan and Bush.

So why the sudden concern?

Because the pen is now held by a hand that is unrestrained by any of the considerations which informed and guided American presidents since George Washington. The hand is attached to a body whose heart, brain, and other parts have made mockery of the oath the mouth had recited—not once but twice—before taking office.

A review of executive orders currently in force cannot fail to alarm the most placid and trusting soul among us. "They include," writes Mr. Murray, "vast powers to seize property, commodities, fuel and minerals; organize and control the means of production, including compulsory job assignments for civilians; assign military forces abroad; institute martial law and force civilian relocation; seize and control all forms of transportation and restrict travel; seize communications and health facilities; regulate operation of private enterprise; require national registration through the postal service, or otherwise control citizens' lives."

True—many of these were first issued by others and only confirmed, renewed and consolidated by Mr. Clinton. But the end result is that, for all practical intents and purposes, Mr. Clinton can declare himself dictator of America with yet another stroke of the pen. He can choose to do so at, say, 3:00 a.m. so that we wake up to a country of which we are not longer citizens, but prisoners.

The reality, of course, is that no sane person would have thought past presidents—such as Carter, Reagan or Bush—capable of imposing their personal rule upon the United States of America.

But it is also a reality that no sane person could think Mr. and Mrs. Clinton incapable of imposing their personal rule upon the United States of America.

No one before presumed to say that the American people cannot be trusted to make proper use of the money they had earned.

No one before has placed an ever-growing circle of fortifications between the People and the People's House.

No one before has populated an entire administration with purely political appointees. Unlike the age-old system of patronage, as practiced by both major parties, a cadre of operatives now runs the executive branch. Their primary qualification is the contempt they share with the presidential pair—contempt for the American People and their Constitution. Previous administrations expected loyalty. The present one requires obedience, even from legislators.

The practice of giving police powers to one citizen over another is an import from the worst regimes in this, or any other, century. In a heartbeat, it can turn decent, ordinary Americans into commissars.

All of the above is happening because we are letting it happen. Congress lets it happen. The courts let it happen. The Founders knew better.
